

NO SECOND TERM FOR LEGION HEAD

MacNider Will Not Be Candidate to Succeed Himself

BOOST NEW YORK MAN

Missouri and Massachusetts Favor William Deegan for Commander

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—(Herald) MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, tonight declared that under no circumstances would he be a candidate to succeed himself as national commander, and that he would "heartily oppose" any proposal to change the national constitution of the legion, which would make possible of a second term for a national head of the legion.

MacNider said in a statement to the Associated Press.

The announcement was brought forth by repeated rumors current among delegates here today that, in the event of an impending deadlock over the national commandship, friends of MacNider might bring forward a constitutional amendment which would make it possible for him to succeed himself, with a view to carrying forward the fight for national legislation for adjusted compensation.

Delegates from Missouri today conferred with William J. Doyle, state commander from Massachusetts, and member of the Massachusetts delegation. It is understood that delegations from both states favor the candidacy of William Deegan, state commander from New York, for national head of the legion.

"You can tell the world," said Commander Doyle of Massachusetts, "that Missouri and Massachusetts are back of Bill Deegan of New York. Deegan is a two-fisted fighting man, who will carry the fight for adjusted compensation into the enemy's camp and win."

Deegan and members of the New York delegation are expected to arrive here tonight.

The Missouri delegation, according to convention rumors current here tonight, expects to support Deegan, and believes that it can carry with it to his support, a midwestern block of votes. Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska are mentioned by Missouri delegates as states which they believe can be counted on to join them in support of Deegan's candidacy. These delegates, who are unwilling to be quoted directly, believe that with the support of New York, New England and the Pacific coast they will be able to swing the convention for the New York man. Missouri support for San Francisco in its fight for the next national convention of the legion will be available in return for Deegan support, they intimate.

Other Candidates.

Outstanding among other legionnaires whose names are being discussed for the national commandship are: Col. A. A. Sprague of Chicago; Alvin M. Qualey of Texas, chairman of the legion's commission on Americanization; Joseph Thompson of Pennsylvania; and T. Zimmes Walmsley of New Orleans. Sprague was one of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood's campaign managers during the last republican campaign prior to the national convention, and has been active in legion "service work" in behalf of wounded and disabled veterans.

Reports that Col. Bennett Clark, son of the late Champ Clark of Missouri, former speaker of the national house of representatives, will be a candidate for national command are emphatically denied by his friends among the Missouri legionnaires, who declare that Colonel Clark would not accept the post.

Word was received tonight by delegates from seven of the allied nations, coming to New Orleans to participate in the convention of the inter-allied veterans' federation, which will precede the legion convention, would arrive here at 8:45 tomorrow night, was received here tonight. Elaborate plans for welcoming these distinguished guests have been made by legion officials and by civic and military authorities.

PETROGRAD LOOKS FOR BETTER DAYS

City Hopes Some Day It Will Again Become the Russian Capital

PETROGRAD.—Hope that some day the capital of Russia will be transferred back to Petrograd is buoying up the spirits of many residents of this ghost-like city that Peter the Great built to serve as the center of Russia's power.

No official word, not even a semi-official hint, has been given that the bolshevik regime will return the capital here from Moscow, but many Petrogradites base their hopes that this will occur on the fact that Petrograd was built for government purposes and is far more fitted to house government offices than overcrowded Moscow.

If the time does come that the bolshevik officials lose their fear of attack from outside, these Petrograd residents say the government inevitably must return to the city that offers it comfortable quarters and immediate proximity, by land and sea, to western Europe. While the fear of attack exists, these same features of Petrograd's location make it a dangerous site for a capital. Finland is too close and the Finnish gulf and the Neva offer anchorage for foreign warships.

Shrewd citizens are now buying up Petrograd's property and holding it against the day when the now almost depopulated city shall again be the crowded capital.

The Petrograd port has shown great activity this summer, but most of the factory chimneys of the city and suburbs are still smokeless and the streets, as compared with busy Moscow, seem like those of a country village.

FRISCO EMPLOYEE INJURED IN SPILL

Boy Plays With Dynamite Cap; Loses Four Fingers and Thumb

SAPULPA, Oct. 12.—Ed Hill, assistant Frisco superintendent here, was seriously injured this afternoon when a Ford coupe which he was driving crashed into the building and turned over at the corner of Poplar street and Lincoln avenue.

Passers-by near the accident said the car was not traveling at a high rate of speed, and indications were that the spill had been caused by a blowout in a front tire.

The injured Frisco official was taken to the city hospital where an examination showed no bones broken, but bruises and the shock of the wreck are apparently the only injuries, although it can not yet be definitely stated whether serious internal trouble will develop.

Joseph Webster, 12, of 1014 East Hubson street, suffered the loss of the thumb and four fingers of the left hand yesterday as the result of setting off a dynamite cap. The boy is visiting here from DeLeon, Texas, and was playing near the high school building where some excavating work is being done. The dynamite cap was apparently misplaced by workmen there.

Benson Jefferson, colored, was arrested here today and charged with stealing a gun, after eluding the police several days. A complaint was made to police several days ago that the negro was in a local dance hall trying to kill some one. On investigation officers found that he had started a quarrel with some one, left the dance hall and stole a high-powered Winchester rifle, which had been taken away from him by his companions.

Dora Murphy, drifter, who shot and killed Major Allen, negro, near Kelleyville yesterday was allowed bail of $5,000 yesterday afternoon before Justice Herman of Bartow. According to official Murphy came upon the negro stealing some corn from his place, a fist fight followed

Attendance at the meeting of the Baptist Delaware association reached the 100 mark before the convention closed here today. Nearly all of the Baptists in six counties, comprising the association, were represented at the convention.

The Glooms.

Well, the howlers and the growlers and the scowlers. Have had their inning lately, that's a fact.

They have had a chance to mumble And to show their customary lack of tact.

They have had the country wallowing in ruin.

And drowning in the depths of grim despair.

They have been supremely happy And they made it very snappy.

With their prophecies of grief and woe and care.

They have had the nation going ballistic.

Predicting riot, anarchy and crime.

They have been so pre-eminently With forebodings commensurate.

That they've really had a most delightful time.

But their happiness and joy is transitory.

The ship of State has ridden out the squall.

It has braved the raging billows And these dismal Weeping Willows Must retire. And we will not miss them at all.

"Did you participate in many engagements while in France?" asked the interested old lady.

"Only five," replied the ex-A. E. F. with becoming modesty.

"And you came through them all unharmed?"

"Not exactly," he returned and by "I married the fifth."—American Legion Weekly.

BLOODSTAINS EXPLAINED

Englishman Says Blasted Holes in Road Caused Accident.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12.—"The mystery" connected with the finding of a bloodstained automobile early today was solved when R. H. Saint

George of London, England, a Cincinnati visitor, explained to the police that the "mystery" conditions of Cincinnati streets was the cause.

Saint George exhibited a gash on his forehead.

He said: "John Delaney, a Cincinnati manufacturer and myself were motoring when we struck one of your blasted holes, and my head, I was tossed about so that my jaw went through one of the windows of the car. A bit of glass got on the forehead and I'm sure you are. I am justly well delighted to explain for my friend Delaney."
